

Have You or a Loved One Been Denied Access to Proton Therapy?

Did you know far too many cancer patients who would greatly benefit from proton therapy are being delayed or denied coverage because of restrictive, complex insurance policies?

And that even after a doctor recommends proton therapy as the best way to beat cancer, individuals are being forced to wait, and wait, for their insurance company to say “yes.”

The Alliance for Proton Therapy Access is a new patient-centered advocacy group working hard to make sure that everyone – EVERYONE! – who needs proton therapy has timely access to it. We need you! We need you to share your story – the good and the bad. How did proton therapy make a difference in your life? Did your insurer say “no” or was your treatment delayed until it said “yes?”

We need you to lend your voice and work with the Alliance to ensure all cancer patients receive timely access to proton therapy when their doctor believes it’s medically necessary. The Alliance needs your help to pressure insurance companies and other public health insurers to provide an insurance process that is timely, fair and transparent for cancer patients.

Please join us. We’ll help you to make your voice heard. Sign up with the Alliance today and help us ensure that no patient’s proton therapy is delayed or denied if it is their best hope for beating cancer.

- Share your story.
- Agree to be an advocate.
- Sign up to receive Alliance updates.

For more information about how you can get involved, contact the Alliance Advocacy Director, Molly Daniels, at mdaniels@allianceforprotontherapy.org.

Go online and join us today!

AllianceForProtonTherapy.org

#FightCancerNotMe

